The 1950 Stage Coach

Yearbook of Saint Mary's
School and Junior College

Saint Mary's School Library

Foreword

With deep appreciation to the staff and to each faculty member who has generously given aid,
Editor Lucile and Business Manager Eliza offer this, the 1950 edition of the Stage Coach, to the students and friends of Saint Mary's.

With it goes the sincere wish that, in the years to come, the memory of 1950 will be a little clearer and friends a little dearer by the pictures here enclosed.

We arrive . . .
September 12, 1949

We leave . . . May 29, 1950

In Memoriam

To the memory of Mrs. Walter Simpson whom we loved and who loved us: a friend who had patience with and understanding of our seemingly unimportant problems. Considering service to others her greatest joy and continuing in that service until her last days, she was a noble woman. We lovingly and gratefully dedicate this column of the Stage Coach in her memory.

Administration

This STAGE COACH of 1950 is a mirror, reflecting the life of the students of Saint Mary's. Here her personnel and organizations are represented. Here also are the pictures of your friends. No book can tell in writing or photography the warm, happy story of the year that has passed. My association with Saint Mary's girls has always been enjoyable. This year has added to those pleasant memories. May I congratulate you upon your achievements, and wish for you a life rich in service and happiness.

RICHARD G. STONE

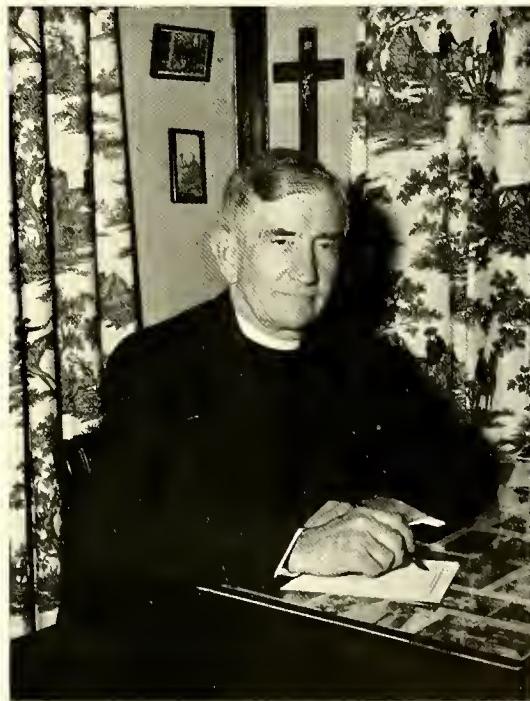

. . . Whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report, . . . think on these things.

MARTHA DABNEY JONES

When years have passed by and we open THE STAGE COACH what a wealth of memories will come back to us! For here have been formed lasting friendships; here through many associations we have learned to find not only the lasting values concerning Truth, but the only things which help to enrich life, preparing us to meet life's problems and to reach toward goals of satisfying accomplishments.

Class History—Looking Back

Where did I go to school when I was young? Why I've told you lots of times! Janet, do not slam that door! I just cannot bear to hear a child slam a door. That is one thing Miss Bason instilled in me when I was a student at St. Mary's, and no grandchild of mine is going to forget it.

Those were the good old days! How well I remember that petrifying 27th day of September in 1948. I have never been so frightened in my entire life! Of course, there were those habitual returners as Betty Bowles and Barbara Wooten who were nonchalantly registering again for another year of work, worry, and a wonderful time.

That first week we took those horrible tests; they were named for some state—I don't remember which one but I know it was north of the Mason-Dixon line. We finally struggled through those and our first Saturday came when our "big sisters" took us out to lunch and the movies. We had such fun that day which was climaxed by the old girl-new girl party where we met all the faculty and so many other people that I still get confused when I remember it.

That fall passed quickly with the football games at Carolina and vicinity and Hallowe'en soon rolled around when we Juniors gave our party for the school. We had the most horrible house of horrors!

Then came Thanksgiving; we stayed right at school until Friday because the polio epidemic that summer had made it necessary for us to begin school two weeks late. No, I didn't have polio! Back we came after our vacation to wait, not study, until Christmas. We had the usual Christmas round of fine entertainments and our pre-Christmas dinner with carol singing. On our halls that night we had wonderful parties and then all we Juniors climbed under our desks to finish our research papers, and what papers they were! Someone said that one of the girls, Cynthia Davis, she was before she married, did not go to bed for three whole nights working on hers!

After Christmas, exams faced us. Thank goodness your children don't have to go through that now. Their down-fall shows progressive civilization! We finally survived until second semester when the fun began all over again! We started planning for our big Junior-Senior dance and it was such fun getting ready. The theme was "The Good Ship Lollipop"—no, I don't have anymore candy—and we gave the dance on May Day. The May Day Pageant was lovely, but after it was over the end of school came all too quickly. There were exams, the Glee Club concert, the Baccalaureate sermon, and—vacation. You would have thought we were graduating the way we cried! But—

Once more on September 12, 1949, St. Mary's opened her doors to her beloved "Belles" both old and new. Ah that was a marvelous year, children! Your grandmother and all her cronies were Seniors at last and were looking forward to that first Sunday night date when we could stay out until 9:30. Mind you, I said 9:30—oh, what an occasion that was!

The first week of school was test week as usual. Another tradition shall we say, but certainly not a very pleasant one! When Saturday rolled around, we threw books, paper, and pencils aside, donned our best bib and tucker and were off to town with our "little sisters" for lunch and a movie. I do wish you could have been with us that night for our Old-girl, New-girl Party. We did have such fun meeting all of the faculty once again and trying to remember all their names so that we could introduce our "little sisters." That was a nightmare if ever there was one; but, in spite of all its drawbacks, school got off to a wonderful start.

When Hallowe'en arrived, the Juniors gave their annual party for the school. I remember Helen Humphrey and Ann Shuford won the prize that night. They went as May and January from Canterbury Tales and what a pair those two did make! Speaking of Canterbury Tales, I wonder why Mr. Moore never made us memorize the "monk" for him. It seems to me we never did quite figure out whether he just plain forgot it or what! But do let me stop this silly old age reminiscing and get on with my story.

Nothing too exciting happened . . . in the groove until Christmas time, but did we cut loose then! We were so busy making plans for the Pageant and the Senior Dance that we didn't have time to crack a book for at least two weeks! The Pageant was lovely, the dance was out of this world, the decorations were simply exquisite, and children did you know that Santa was an SAE?

The day before we left for those glorious holidays was a most unforgettable one I must say! It all started that afternoon when we Seniors trembling in our boots, staggered in to take the D. C. test. I'll never forget that sinking feeling we had, but when we walked into the classroom, what should greet us but—DON'T SCREAM! MERRY CHRISTMAS! C.A.P. MOORE! That made the day! That night we had the usual formal dinner and Glee Club concert and then the hall parties when everyone exchanged gifts. Everyone felt as though Christmas had really started.

The next day we were so mean—we woke the whole school at six o'clock when we tried to sing Christmas Carols. I do believe that was the coldest morning your poor old grandmother has ever felt in her whole life! When 12:30 came we grabbed our suitcase, coats, hatboxes, etc., and were off for sixteen whole days; but before we had time to turn around, January 1, 1950 had come and we were back with only the fond memories of the good times had at home. We did try so hard to settle down to the books again and to make some sort of preparation for exams but it seemed as though it were all in vain. Exams came—and—well, you guessed it—most of us were still unprepared to face the grave ordeal. However, by some hook or crook, we lived through them, but to this day, I'll never know how!

Second semester moved along fairly rapidly. The Freshman-Sophomore dance was terrific, Tom Jones was terrific, and Spring holidays were just simply super-duper terrific! What does that mean? Oh, that was just a little slang expression used when I was growing up.

Next on our calendar of events was May Day and the Junior-Senior. Our May Day theme was a circus and the court were tight rope walkers. Betty Bowles reigned as queen that year and what a pretty little circus girl she did make! The dance, as all S.M.S. dances, was grand; and, as usual, everyone said it was the best dance the school had ever had. Why children, do you know that was where I met your grandfather? He was the cutest thing that night, but that's a story all by itself so we will have to save that for another time.

It seemed as though that last month of school just flew by. We began to feel a little reluctant over the thought of having to leave for good, but there wasn't much we could do about it; and so we followed in the footsteps of hundreds of other "Belles" and watched graduation weekend finally approach. The Commencement play, the Baccalaureate Service, Step-singing, and the final address brought to a close our happy days at Saint Mary's. Both joy and sorrow were mixed in our departure, but as we left, we left with a special feeling in our hearts for our beloved school and for all who helped to make it that perfect and unforgettable place.

And now off to bed all of you, because if your mother comes home and finds you still up she will skin me alive. Good night, dear ones!

OLIVIA LYNCH AND BETTY RAY

Class Prophecy

It was Saturday afternoon, July 6, 1975. We were quietly riding around looking at the beautiful homes when somebody yelled, "Come to the circus." It's the greatest thing since Charlotte. It was Jo Gaither, a barker at the circus. That started the strangest adventure of all time, and we still are not sure whether or not it really happened. What do you think?

Betty Shields sold us our tickets, and Bert Allen Russ gave us a program that she had printed on her own little printing press. Before we had got past the gate, Betsy Brown had sold us ten boxes of crackerjacks. She directed us to the side shows where Binny Chew was herding people in and shouting, "See my husband, the tallest man on earth! Also see the greatest Hucklebucker in existence, Lou Byram! Watch Frankie Strosnider swallow swords! Pepper Neal will eat fire and use gasoline as a chaser! See if you can trick Martha Nash on a question!" After that build up we went in to watch them perform. While we were there we saw Ellen Weaver, the biggest woman in the world; Anne Shuford, the best mountain square dancer ever; Julia and Vivian Scott, the Siamese twins from Raleigh, N. C. Kay Boyette was sitting next to her husband, the world's fattest man. We recognized the India rubber man as Gloria Farnell and the strongest woman on earth as Mary Frances Gilbert. Last were the "girls," Olivia Lynch, Annie Robertson, Nancy Dixon and Sue Burdette, who were all dressed appropriately for their dances. That was a grand finish for the side shows.

Then came the animals with Shirley Fox and her collection of long necked giraffs. Beside them was Betty Ray and her famous flea circus. (They did everything but bite dogs.) Nancy Harp was frantically trying to get their costumes fixed and we could see that Miss Bason's Home Ec. had paid off. Mary Anne Rose and Beth Harriss were diligently watering the elephants, while Lib Switer was trying to climb upon the elephants' heads for her act. Ginny Anne Landis with her collection of rare parrots had at last found something that could out talk her. We actually never thought she would. Sara Anne Proctor and Lila Rousseau were entertaining their apes while trying to get them into a good mood for their act. Evidently they succeeded, for the apes were in hysterics. Phyllis Kelly was playing the organ so that her bears could dance. Everyone was unbelievably busy.

We could still hear the strains of Kelly's organ as we walked on toward the main gate and Helen Brundage's fortune telling booth. It seemed as though she had told our fortunes in times past. Sylvia Newson had a little Community Chest booth and had exceeded her goal. We were not surprised at that. Al Wilson was the new Mr. Anthony, counsellor for the love lorn, and people were flocking to her for advice. Monie Rowland, who was sound asleep, was leaning against Liz Everage's hot dog stand. That was another thing which didn't surprise us. We wanted to ask her about the west, but we didn't want to disturb her. We looked over toward the main gate and there was Babs Wooten wandering around with an important look on her face. It seemed that she was owner of this circus and looking for Luke Hill and her building crew. Aurelia Fulton, the manager, came running by shouting that circus spirit was not good and something must be done immediately. Babs told us to excuse the interruption because Aurelia always did get excited over spirits. We asked her if there was anyone else we knew working with the circus. She told us that Liza Chipley ran the circus library and Anne Cahoon was respectfully submitting the pay checks. Just when we heard a tremendous applause from within the tent, and Babs told us that it was time for the big show to start. We excitedly went in.

First of all Jean Wranek sang the "Star Spangled Banner," and then Rosalie Huske, who had charge of the main show, announced that Kitty Faucett was absent. The show proceeded with fearless Suzanne Dawson being shot from a cannon into the arms of her waiting husband, who was walking a tight rope. Mary Scarboro hung by her teeth from the highest trapeze, and Mary Smith, Joan Sieber, and Cecile Bickett, were doing triple summersaults through the air on the other trapezes. Lucile Best skated between them on the highest tight rope. Such graceful creatures! Was it from Mrs. Guess' modern dancing? Next Scotty Kent brought out her trained seals for their act of balancing balls. The clowns, Monty Redd, still reading "True Romances," and Anne Badger Smith, not cracking a smile, paraded about. Ann McKenzie and Sara Holcolm were clowning as usual. All of this was in honor of Betty Bowles, queen of the circus. Rosalie announced that Mary Mar Ragland would dive from a fifty foot tower into a tub of water five feet deep, and Joanne Liles, Janet Linker and Patsy Davis would ride bicycles down a tremendous slide with a loop in it. We were truly amazed at their talent. The band played, and Katie Clifton came riding out on the buckingest horse we ever saw. She was proclaimed winner over all the other riders. Next came the bare-back riders, Patty Starr, Jean Stockton, Frances Elder, Eunice Bizzell, Brookie Craft and Carolyn Kier. I never knew those girls were ever acquainted with horses.

Just about that time we heard someone yelling for her mother. "Twas Helen Young, and who should come running but Betty Browne Lewis and Kathryne Holmes. We guessed from that that they were both mothers. Skeelie Wilkins was doing a remarkable act with knives. She always did want to be a Carver. Last of all came the snake women, Jean Lutz, and Virginia McFarland. Imagine former Saint Mary's girls playing with snakes. Could it have been Biology?

The big show was over and we walked from the grounds dazed. We thought that we had seen everybody, but there was Libba Roe racing a powerful car around in a circle. She never slowed down enough for us to find out whether or not she was a part of the show or just cutting up. We guessed it was a special act. We had seen enough, but there was one thing that we didn't quite understand—why was everybody in the circus? Was it the desire for the lighter side of life after English 31? We decided that that was the only possible reason, and if everybody else needed to be in the circus, we did too. Our first job was to sell peanuts.

Last Will and Testament

On this 28th day of May, 1950, we the Senior Class of Saint Mary's School and Junior College, being of sound body and sane mind, bequeath the following articles in the manner named below:

ARTICLE I

To Dr. Stone, we express appreciation for the interest he has shown in us, and the high ideals that he has set before us.

To Miss Jones, for her patience and guidance, we leave our heart-felt thanks and best wishes, along with the coke machine.

To Mr. Moore, we leave believing in Santa Claus and Cabin by the Lake Chaperons!

To Miss Ellington, we leave our love and best wishes for being a wonderful adviser to us for two years.

To the Raleigh Police Force, we leave, hoping that without our Shrieks, they may soon catch the "little man."

ARTICLE II

We, the Senior Class, as we leave Saint Mary's to spread her fame, to live up to her ideals, bequeath the following qualities, to you, the Student body.

We, Betty Battle and Jean English leave our needles and a pack of argyle sock yarn to Louise McCann.

I, Lucile Best, distribute my capability among the rising Senior Class, for I won't need it at Carolina.

I, Eunice Bizzell, leave all my phone calls on 3rd Smedes to Mary Ann Guthrie who already seems to have a head start.

I, Betty Bowles, leave Mr. Moore snowed.
I, Kay Boyette, leave my petite stature to "Bimbo" Parshley.
I, Betsy Brown, leave my quietness to A. J. Owens.
We, Babs Wooten and Helen Brundage, leave, without signing out.
I, Sue Burdette, leave for Wrightsville, hoping to come back without crutches this time.
I, Lou Byram, leave for Georgia.
I, Ann Cahoon, leave my posture to the Broughtons.
I, Liza Chipley, leave my bottle of Hadacol to Margaret Stewart. It cured me.
I, Katie Clifton, leave 1st East Wing for California, where I, too, have my own private bathtub.
I, Brookie Craft, leave Saint Mary's slowly and nonchalantly as usual.
I, Cynthia Davis leave my bed to someone who can make better use of it than I did.
We, Patsy Davis and Gloria Farnell, leave all of our A grades to "Shep" Rustin and Jean Acker.
I, Beth Harris, leave my friendliness to Lou Ann Watkins.
I, Luke Hill, leave my artistic ability to Laura Davis.
I, Sara Holcomb, leave Saint Mary's having distinguished between Dr. Pepper and Dr. Parker.
I, Aurelia Fulton, will my well-worn copy of "How To Win Friends and Influence People" to Rachel Cozart. I hope it helps her as much as it did me.
I, Phylis Kelly, leave the organ keys, stuck—
I, Scotty Kent, leave the telephone booth in Holt to Widgee Switzer, who from past experience, uses it almost as much as I do.
I, Carolyn Kizer, leave my voice to Virginia Mowery.
I, Ginny Anne Landis, leave frantic.
I, Betty Brown Lewis, leave my dignity to Lucy Ann Bodie.
I, Anne Badger Smith, having appointed Joanne Liles and Janet Linker on my final committee, leave Saint Mary's.
I, Sara Ann Procter, leave 2nd Holt still believing in Santa Claus.
I, Mary Scarboro, leave my Southern drawl to Alice May, knowing she could make good use of it.
I, Virginia McFarland, leave jitterbugging.
I, Pepper Neal, hate to leave the Sigmas, but wish them lots of luck.
I, Ann McKenzie, leave in my own beautiful red Chrysler convertible.
I, Sylvia Newson, leave my natural blond hair to Mary Louise Monk, who tried so hard.
We, Mary Marshal Ragland and Katherine Holmes, leave still carrying all the memories of our trip abroad.
We, Betty Ray and Olivia Lynch, leave West Rock to Miss McLaurin.
I, "Monty" Redd, leave for Va. and take my dry wit with me.
I, Lila Rousseau, hate to go without catching the little man, but leave my flash light to Miss S. E. Jones.
I, Monie Rowland, leave Saint Mary's with my little jewelry box, filled to the brim with fraternity pins.
I, Berta Allen Russ, leave my weekends at Chapel Hill to Ann Miles.
I, Vivian Scott, leave East Rock to Miss Brown.
I, Julia Scott, leave all my spare time to Frankie Allen, assured that she can make use of it.
I, Betty Shields, leave my long black hair to Frances Corleto.
I, Ann Shuford, leave my shoes at Saint Mary's because I don't need them in the mountains.
I, Patty Starr, leave a nickel to start a fund for Escalators to 3rd floor.
I, Joan Stieber, leave the library at last.
I, Jean Stockton, leave Millie.
I, Frankie Strosnider, leave Chemistry class still blushing over Bill.
I, Lib Suiter, leave my ability to become a farmer's wife to Bumps Swink.
I, Ellen Weaver, bequeath my tiny waist to Nancy Woodruff; I hope it fits.
I, Al Wilson, leave my flat heels to Micky Rooney's next wife.
I, Jean Wranek, leave my love for Lynchburg to Sandra Sims who hails from there, too.
I, Helen Young, leave, still in a fog.
I, Martha Nash, trip lightly away, leaving my intellect to Betsy Wood.
I, Libba Roe, leave my last name to Shad.
I, Mary Smith, leave my love for Duke to Peggy Hooker, because it won't fit in at Carolina.
I, Suzanne Dawson, bequeath my favorite saying, "give me a drag!" to anyone who can use it as much as I do.
I, Nancy Dixon, leave for Charleston where I will spend the rest of my life on my yacht.
I, Liz Everage, leave Mr. Guess' classes still in a trance.
I, Kitty Faucette, still leave all my Saturday classes.
I, Shirley Fox, leave my lack of avoiding questions to Nedra Gilmore.
I, Rosalie Huske, leave my way with the men to Margaret Cheatham, although she really doesn't need it.
I, Jo Gaither, leave mononucleosis to Mrs. Naylor, with a complete list of symptoms.
I, Heilig Harney, leave for Mulberry Hill where I can 'coon hunt and smoke my pipe in peace.
I, Nancy Harp, leave big red Holt for a little white house in Kentucky.
I, Frances Elder, leave my curiosity to Ann Dunn.
I, Cecile Bickett, leave my memories of the Debutant Ball to the future Raleigh debs.
I, Jean Lutz, leave my neatness to Tina McNulty, as if she needs it!
I, Annie Robertson, leave my vast store of English notes to the rising Seniors.
We, Binny Chew and Mary Anne Rose, leave our money and good looks to everybody who needs them as much as we do.

We, the testators, Chew and Rose, representing the senior class, do hereby appoint Miss Mary Oliver Ellington and Dr. Richard G. Stone as administrators of this, our Last Will And Testament, and instruct the above mentioned to carry out the same.

Sophomore Daniels

Elections Go In Meetings

The sophomore leaders this year are president: Lou Daniels; vice-president: Nedra Gilmore; Home Council chair: Cozart; a Body member is from Henderson, is on the Stage Coach staff, a member of the Canterbury Club and a Mu. Kay Daniels, who is from Fort Lauderdale, Florida, is a Sigma and a member of the Canterbury Club and the Dramatic Club.

Ring. Shirley George, a Sigma, is a member of the Canterbury Club.

Nedra Gilmore of Nichols, S. C., is vice-president of the Doctor's Daughters Club, a member of the staged to review costumes, to the best of which a prize will be awarded.

The gym will be transformed into Halloween scene complete with a horror house and a house of freaks, in addition to miscellaneous surprise booths. Two fortune tellers, an apple bobbing contest, and a wishing well will complete the planned entertainment.

In charge of the decoration committee is Saint Mary's," but his choice will not be announced until the annual is presented to the students in the spring.

Election of outstanding seniors will be held next week. As a new feature this year, the sophomores will select outstanding girls from their class, and these girls will be listed in the annual.

BETTY BOWLES
Editor

Under the guidance of Betty Bowles, editor, and the coöperation of Miss Doro Winters, alumni secretary, The Bulletin, the Saint Mary's magazine, has been published three times during the year. Containing interesting creative writing from students and news from alumni, the Bulletin helps keep old S.M.S. girls in touch with school life.

The Stage Coach Staff

From September 12 until May 29, this, the 108th year of Saint Mary's existence, has been the best! We have tried to record the year in pictures so that in years to come as you flip the pages of the 1950 STAGE COACH, it will bring chuckles, tears and a great pride that you were a Saint Mary's girl.

Dear Miss Best:

I certainly appreciate the honor you have conferred upon me, but you surely gave me a tough assignment to choose the most beautiful girl.

The girls are all so pretty, it was almost impossible to make the selection. However, after much deliberation, I have done so and my choice is Miss Sylvia Newson.

I certainly hope my selection meets with the Student Body's approval.

Again thanks for the honor and thanks for your interest.

With best personal wishes, I am

Sincerely yours,

Kay Kyser

ACHIEVEMENT

Never gained easily — the graduate's diploma is a symbol of a truly great Achievement — one in which every graduate may take pride for all his life.

The Achievement of gaining the confidence and friendship of students and faculty is one in which we not only take pride, but which we cherish and guard with constant vigilance.

A GOOD MOTTO

From a pamphlet:

"Once upon a time a man of business hung a motto on his office wall, which read: 'No man is greater than his thoughts.'

"To him it looked like good wisdom and sound reasoning. One day a friend dropped in, and seeing the motto said, 'That's a good motto you have there, Bill, but I know a better one: 'No man is greater than his decisions'.'

"And so the 'Thoughts' motto was replaced with the 'Decisions' motto and Bill's thinking moved up a step.

Now then, both mottoes are good, but I believe that if the last one was replaced by: 'No man is greater than his faith,' Bill's thinking would take another step upward. For after all, according to our faith so are our decisions. We cannot make great decisions without great faith.
